Help:Wikilinks

If you want to check and sign parameter wikilinks in editorial process template, you should check all the links in the text of the article. More information, how to create wikilinks can be found here.

1. You should think of the amount of wikilinks. → Every article should contain wikilinks, but not too much.
2. You should think of the meaning of wikilinks → For example: In the article about heart failure is not necessary to link on the article about heart anatomy. We suppose, that anybody, who needs article about heart failure already knows heart anatomy...

After you checked all these options, you can sign the parameter wikilinks in editorial process template by your editorial signature :

```
{{Editorial process
|wikilinks = Wikiholic, 17. 7. 2011
}}
```