

Indication criteria for imaging methods

A comprehensive overview of the indication criteria for imaging methods in medicine in the Czech language is given in the Journal of the Ministry of Health of the Czech Republic from November 2003 , which was created by translating and editing a document approved in 2000 by the European Commission and experts representing European radiology and nuclear medicine .

Links

External links

- Bulletin of the MZČR from November 2003