

Phalen's test

Maximal flexion in the wrist will cause paresthesias in the fingers of the hand on the same side. The phenomenon is usually positive in carpal tunnel syndrome.^[1]

Links

Related articles

- Carpal tunnel syndrome

Reference

1. ROVENSKÝ, Jozef. Rheumatology explsnstory dictionary. 1. edition. Grada, 2006. ISBN 8024716143.