

Template:Inserted article

This template should be used for marking an article when it is inserted to another article. There is automatically inserted a comment with a warning note about changes in this article.

The template should be inserted with modifier subst:, with the command `{{subst:Inserted article}}`.