

Tracheomalacia

Tracheomalacia is the term for a change in the trachea caused by softening of the cartilage. It can be caused, for example, by inflammation or as a manifestation of general chondromalacia. This condition can result in ventilation disorders.