

Endocrine system

hipothalmus - The hypothalamus is a tiny cluster of brain cells, just above the pituitary gland, which transmits messages from the body to the brain. It effectively uses the pituitary gland to link the nervous system to the endocrine system.