

Excess blasts

Excess blasts is a condition in which myeloblasts exceed 5% of all nucleated cells in a bone marrow aspirate. It can occur during myelodysplastic syndrome due to dysgranulopoiesis.

Links

Related articles

- Acute myeloid leukemia

References

ZÁMEČNÍK, Josef. Patologie. 1. edition. LD,s.r.o., PRAGER PUBLISHING, 2019 - 1. edition, 2019. 911 pp. ISBN 978-1-4160-2973-1.