

Myringoplasty

Myringoplasty is a reconstructive surgical procedure aimed at restoring the function of the eardrum . This involves either healing the eardrum or recreating it. In retromyringic myringoplasty, a free graft (autologous fascia from the temporalis muscle , perichondrium, cartilage) is placed under the eardrum (underlay).

Links

Related Articles

- Tympanoplasty
- Surgical treatment of chronic otitis media

Source

- BENEŠ, Jiří. Study materials [online]. ©2007. [feeling. 2009]. <http://jirben2.chytrak.cz/materialy/orl_jb.doc >.

References

- KLOZAR, Jan, et al. Special otorhinolaryngology. 1st edition. Prague: Galén, 2005. 224 pp. ISBN 80-7262-346-X .

Category : Otorhinolaryngologie

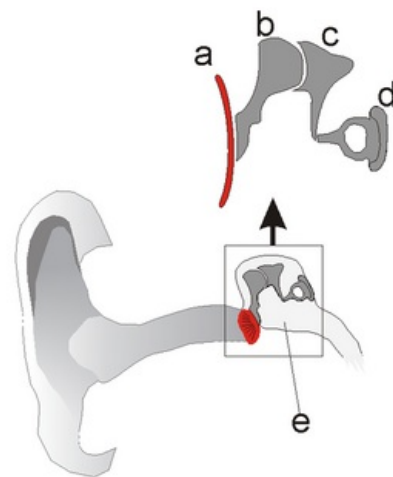

Diagram of the ear - ear drum transmission system shown in red : a – ear drum, b – malleus, c – anvil, d – stirrup, e – middle ear cavity