

Organoleptic properties

Organoleptic properties are characteristics that can be evaluated by human senses. Organoleptics is a sensory assessment that uses the main sensory perceptions to evaluate properties (appearance, smell, taste , temperature, etc.).

The organoleptic properties of water are: Temperature, color, turbidity, transparency, smell, taste.

External links

- Organoleptic properties of water (http://www.enviwiki.cz/wiki/Organoleptick%C3%A9_vlastnosti_vody)