

Orthopnea

Orthopnea is shortness of breath associated with the supine position, which forces a change of position. The condition of standing persons then improves. It often occurs at night in left-sided heart failure.

Links

Related Articles

- Apnoea (newborn)
- Dyspnea
- Bradypnea vs. Tachypnoea
- Hypopnoea vs. Hyperpnea

References

-