

Regurgitation

Regurgitation is the backward movement of the liquid contents of hollow organs, e.g. the return of swallowed food back to the mouth (without vomiting), the backward flow of blood in valve defects, etc.

Links

Related Articles

- Valvular defects
- Vomiting (pediatrics)

Source

- ŠVÍGLEROVÁ, Jitka. Regurgitace [online]. [cit. 12.11.2010]. <<https://web.archive.org/web/20160306065550/http://wiki.lfp-studium.cz/index.php/Regurgitace>>.